I heard the call to respond to crisis with food, water and the Gospel of Jesus Christ about a year and a half ago. Followed up by getting signed up as a volunteer pilot and recruiter with the Civil Air Patrol in Madison, Wis. This was a way to help others in crisis but is limited in sharing Christ. So I have signed up with The Rapid Response Team, Billy Graham. So far the calls have been in the south and I have not traveled with them yet but look forward to it in the future. I also have trained with Crisis Response International who is at this time responding to Haiti. It seems that getting a team together to respond to crisis in the upper midwest is worth looking into.
